GECO .40 S&W FMJ Flat Nose: precision in sight

GECO .40 S&W FMJ Flat Nose cartridges are ideal for intensive sport shooting sessions, offering both excellent accuracy and a perfectly clean impact on cardboard targets. Their Flat Nose profile (flat head) is specifically designed for optimal results in terms of visibility and control during range training.

Advantages of the FMJ Flat Nose Bullet

The FMJ flat-headed bullet has two major advantages: it produces perfectly visible perforations on targets, facilitating rapid assessment of shots during sustained training. In addition, its full metal jacket significantly limits barrel fouling, ensuring consistent shots and increased equipment longevity.

Carefully designed for reliable performance

Thanks to a careful selection of quality components such as brass cases and modern primers with reliable ignition, these GECO cartridges guarantee optimal operation in all types of handguns or submachine guns chambered in .40 S&W.
