The charm of wood combined with the mechanics of a shotgun

The Yildiz S61 Wood Pump-Action Shotgun in 12/76 gauge is designed for hunters who appreciate the warm aesthetic of wood while seeking the simplicity and robustness of a pump-action system. Its elegant design gives it an authentic character without sacrificing the advantages of modern manufacturing technologies.

7075 alloy casing: lightweight and robust

The frame, machined from 7075 aircraft-grade alloy, reduces weight while maintaining excellent mechanical strength. This design provides the weapon with a comfortable balance and enhances comfort during long days in the field.

61 cm barrel made of 4140 steel

The 61 cm barrel is made of 4140 steel, a material renowned for its strength and durability. Featuring non-dispersing rifling, it maintains excellent versatility thanks to the use of interchangeable chokes, allowing the configuration to be adapted to specific needs.

A particularly elegant solid walnut stock

The pistol grip stock, crafted from solid, oil-finished walnut, lends a high-end touch to this model. Its natural grain gives each firearm a unique character. Beyond its aesthetic appeal, it also provides a comfortable and secure grip.

Pump system reliability

The manual pump-action reloading system is one of the most tried and tested in the world of hunting firearms. Its mechanical simplicity promotes reliability and facilitates maintenance. The high-quality steel internal components also contribute to the overall longevity of the firearm.
