The AUDERE LEVITAS is a one-piece cantilever-type mount that allows a riflescope to be attached remotely to your weapon.

It is perfectly suited for mounting an LPVO (Light power variable optic) scope on an AR15 or any modern semi-automatic rifle.

In addition to its elegant and advanced design, it was developed for intensive use by law enforcement and the military.

Its one-piece design provides significant rigidity to the bezel, without suffering from significant weight.

The machining and finishing precision provided by AUDERE to its products make them top-of-the-range optical mounts dedicated to shooting accuracy and durability.
