The WML is a tactical and compact flashlight which, thanks to its integrated picatinny rail, can be fixed directly on the rail of its AR15 or any long gun equipped with a MILSTD 1913 21 mm picatinny rail.

Its rear switch positioned at 45° makes its use simple and natural because the reactive hand holding the hand guard instinctively comes to rest on the lamp contactor.

Its compact side and skimming the rail, allows the WML to be placed on any side of its handguard, without it obstructing the field of vision or even the aiming.

Proven in shooting, it will resist all calibers as well as the most difficult conditions.

A simple adjustment allows you to opt for a continuous light after activation or a momentary light requiring continuous support or a strobe mode.
