The M4A1 rifle Daniel Defense is used by the US Special Forces Special Operations Commands (SOCOM)

The Daniel Defense M4A1 is a 5.56 NATO semi-automatic rifle designed for optimum performance in the field. The 14.5-inch Cold Hammer Forged barrel ensures superior accuracy and durability, essential for demanding tactical missions.

Its RIS II rail, made of 6061-T6 aluminum, offers exceptional rigidity and compatibility with a wide range of accessories. This rail, used in military equipment, allows advanced customization to meet the needs of professionals, whether it is optics, lamps or other tactical accessories.

The Carbine-Length gas system ensures reliability and smoothness in the firing cycle, while the Cerakote Mil-Spec+ finish protects against wear and extreme weather conditions. The ergonomic and adjustable Daniel Defense stock and grip provide optimal comfort and a secure grip, even during long shooting sessions.
