The DDM4 V7 Cobalt finish is designed to deliver impeccable performance, combined with an elegant design. Its 16-inch barrel, made of cold-forged chrome-molybdenum-vanadium steel, guarantees optimum accuracy and exceptional durability. With a 1:7 rifling pitch, it is compatible with a wide range of ammunition, thus offering great versatility.

The 15-inch M-LOK® SLiM Rail handguard provides a lightweight, ergonomic platform ideal for adding accessories such as optics, lights or grips. This modular design ensures maximum comfort and intuitive handling, even during extended sessions.

Its mid-length gas system reduces recoil and improves stability for a smooth and precise shooting experience. Made of hard-anodized 7075-T6 aluminum, the rifle combines lightness and robustness, meeting the demands of sport and tactical shooters.

The Cobalt finish distinguishes this model with its refined aesthetics, while maintaining the quality and reliability associated with Daniel Defense. Whether for sport shooting, defense or competitions, the DDM4 V7 Cobalt excels on all fronts.
