- RIS II type handguard with 21 mm Picatinny rail
- Lightweight and adaptable thanks to its 4 Picatinny rails on the front.
- Anodized black cerakote coating.
- Supplied in polymer case with 1 10-round magazine.
- Made in USA.

The MK18 SBR is a compact and powerful rifle, designed to meet the needs of demanding tactical missions. Equipped with a 10.3-inch barrel made of cold-forged chrome-molybdenum-vanadium steel, it offers optimum accuracy and exceptional robustness, even in extreme conditions.

Its RIS II Quad Rail handguard, originally developed for the United States Special Operations Command (USSOCOM), allows for easy mounting of a wide range of tactical accessories such as optics, lights, lasers and grips. This modularity makes the MK18 SBR a versatile and effective tool for close-quarters operations and confined environments.

The carbine-length gas system improves reliability and reduces recoil, ensuring a smooth and controlled shooting experience. Constructed from hard-anodized 7075-T6 aluminum, the MK18 SBR is built to withstand the toughest conditions while providing ideal lightness for optimal maneuverability.

Compact, ergonomic and reliable, the MK18 SBR is the preferred choice of special forces and security professionals. It is also ideal for shooting enthusiasts looking for high-end equipment.
