A rifle for professionals

The Schmeisser AR15 S4F is designed to meet the needs of the most demanding shooters, whether they are security professionals or sport shooting enthusiasts. Its .223 Rem caliber ensures an ideal compromise between power, precision and low recoil, suitable for tactical missions as well as intensive shooting sessions.

Compactness and maneuverability

With a 10.5" barrel, this model guarantees exceptional handling in confined environments while maintaining formidable precision over intermediate distances. Its optimized weight and adjustable stock make it an easy-to-handle weapon, even during prolonged use.

M-LOK Technology: Advanced Modularity

The M-LOK rail, integrated into the rifle, offers a modern and versatile platform. It allows you to easily add accessories such as grips, tactical lights or lasers to customize the weapon according to the specific needs of each user. The aeronautical aluminum design guarantees robustness in all conditions.

Safety and ergonomics

Featuring an ambidextrous selector, this rifle is suitable for both right and left-handed users, offering quick and intuitive handling in all situations. The ergonomic controls provide a natural grip, ideal for professionals under pressure.

Additional features:

- Increased Accuracy: Treated barrel for improved durability and consistent accuracy over time.
- Simplified maintenance: Quick disassembly for easy and efficient maintenance.
- Durability: Anodized finish for exceptional resistance to extreme conditions.
- Adaptability: Compatible with standard AR15 range magazines.

A strategic choice for professionals

The Schmeisser AR15 S4F is more than just a rifle: it is a strategic tool, designed to deliver reliable performance in all conditions. Whether for tactical shooting, law enforcement or competition, it meets all expectations in terms of reliability and precision.

The adjustable gas system allows you to adjust the gas pressure in the system. This is especially important when using a silencer to avoid excessive operation and increased back pressure. The free-floating barrel design improves the accuracy of the weapon by eliminating the contact of the barrel with the frame of the weapon to keep only the vibration of the barrel. Fully Mil-Spec compatible, this AR-15 allows the addition of many accessories or parts for a fully personalized upgrade. With a modern aesthetic in its raw state, its handguard with M-Lok attachment offers the possibility of adding multiple accessories to give your weapon a tactical look.
