The DMR - Dedicated Marksman Rifle - series is the new AR15 benchmark for maximum accuracy and maneuverability. It's the first choice for demanding shooters, who expect perfection right out of the box.

All DMR models feature an 18" fluted barrel, adjustable gas block, aluminum M-LOK handguard with Helicoil inserts. The bottom and top are forged from 7075 T6 aluminum and feature a full ambidextrous design.

A rifle for long-distance precision

The Schmeisser DMR RAL 8000 is the ideal choice for shooters seeking maximum precision at intermediate and long distances. Thanks to its 18-inch barrel, it guarantees a stable trajectory and unmatched accuracy. Its .223 REM caliber offers a perfect compromise between power and low recoil, ideal for precise shots.

A distinctive tactical design

The RAL 8000 finish, with its tactical sand tint, gives this rifle a unique style while offering increased resistance against the elements. Perfect for demanding operational environments, it combines aesthetics and performance.

Advanced modularity with the M-LOK system

The M-LOK rail, integrated into this rifle, allows for complete customization. Easily add tactical accessories such as bipods, lights or optics to adapt the weapon to any mission or shooting session.

High quality materials

Made of aeronautical aluminum, the DMR RAL 8000 is built to last. Its lightness and robustness make it a reliable weapon in the most demanding situations. Its adjustable stock and ergonomic controls guarantee optimal comfort, even during prolonged use.

Additional features:

- Advanced ergonomics: Ambidextrous controls for intuitive handling.
- Adjustable Gas System: Allows for customization of firing cycles for a smooth experience.
- Compatibility: Works with standard AR15 magazines.
- Simplified maintenance: Quick disassembly for easy cleaning.

A weapon designed for the elite

The Schmeisser DMR RAL 8000 is much more than a rifle: it is a precision tool designed to meet the expectations of the most demanding shooters. Whether you are a professional in operation or a sports shooter looking for optimal performance, this rifle will meet your needs.
