Technical Glossary

- Cantilever rail : Support fixed directly on the barrel, allowing the installation of optics while maintaining their adjustment after disassembly.
- Ergal 55 : Aluminum alloy used for its lightness and strength, commonly used in the aeronautics industry.
- Parallel Slope : Stock design provides a straight line, improving recoil control and aiming speed.

Standards and Certifications

The FABARM Martial Cantilever is tested at a pressure of 1630 bars, surpassing the usual standards, guaranteeing optimum safety and reliability. It is also compatible with steel ball ammunition, meeting the requirements of professionals in terms of performance and durability.

Comparison with other models

Compared to the FABARM Martial Ultrashort, the Cantilever model offers a longer barrel of 61 cm, improving accuracy for shooting bullets at medium distances. In addition, the integrated cantilever rail facilitates the addition of optics, thus increasing the versatility of the weapon for various tactical and sporting applications.

Compatible Accessories

- Optics : Rifle scopes or red dots for rapid target acquisition.
- Tactical sling : Facilitates the transport and handling of the weapon during operations.
- Reinforced carrying case : Provides optimal protection when transporting or storing the weapon.
