Threaded barrel

The 129.7mm barrel is threaded 1/2x28 with a protective ring, allowing the addition of a sound moderator or specific firing devices. This elongated format optimizes accuracy and consistency. To take full advantage of the attenuation of a silencer, it is recommended to use 9mm Luger subsonic cartridges (140 to 158 grains).

Optic Ready compatibility

The PX-9 Tactical is optic-ready and directly accepts RMR-type micro-red dots. The high-mounted, Glock-compatible fiber optic sights allow for co-witness aiming when a red dot is mounted.

Adjustable ergonomics

With its six sets of backrests and side plates, the handle adapts to all body shapes. The textured grip and straight trigger guard enhance comfort and stability.

Safety and reliability

The pistol features a firing pin indicator (visual and tactile) and a bright red extractor serving as a loaded chamber indicator. A trigger safety and firing pin assembly complete the package for reliable use.

Delivered in a case with two 18-round magazines (P226 compatible), a holster inside and a cleaning kit, the PX-9 Tactical is ready for heavy-duty use right out of the box.
