A modern platform in .22 LR

Chambered in .22 Long Rifle , the Bushranger offers very moderate recoil and low operating costs, ideal for regular training or recreational shooting. Its manually operated repeating action ensures reliability and accuracy, even with different types of ammunition.

Button Release Bolt Action: speed and fluidity

The Button Release system makes bolt removal easy and simplifies maintenance. Bolt operation is smooth and intuitive, promoting fast and comfortable reloading at the range.

18.5" threaded barrel and modularity

The 18.5" (470 mm) barrel offers a good balance between accuracy and compactness. The threaded muzzle allows for the mounting of compatible accessories. The M-LOK interface enables the addition of supplementary equipment as needed.

Picatinny rail and wooden ergonomics

The integrated Picatinny rail simplifies the installation of a scope or red dot sight. The oiled beech stock with pistol grip provides a natural and stable hold. The matte blued finish protects the firearm while maintaining a clean, understated look.
