Next-generation Mag-Fed pump-action shotgun

The Mossberg 590RM Chisel is distinguished by its double-stack magazine feeding system. This system allows for a high capacity while maintaining a compact weapon length.

The magazine's stabilizing ribs ensure a secure lock in the housing, while the release lever allows for quick magazine replacement.

Ambidextrous rotary safety selector

The ambidextrous rotary safety selector is accessible without altering the weapon's grip. This modern control improves the fluidity of handling and allows for rapid control during transitions.

The flat trigger provides a clean and consistent start, appreciated for its regularity.

Adjustable Chisel Folding Stock

The Chisel Folding Stock Mount system allows the stock to fold along the receiver to reduce bulk during transport. The stock also features 8 adjustable positions to adjust the length of pull between 12.5" and 16.5" .

It is equipped with a MOE+ pistol grip and an interchangeable butt plate to improve shooting comfort.

Optics-ready platform

The top Picatinny rail allows for easy mounting of a red dot sight or optics suitable for dynamic shooting. This configuration offers a quick and modern target acquisition.
