Robust steel construction

Made of steel, this mainspring housing offers excellent mechanical strength and durability suitable for heavy use. The matte black finish ensures aesthetic integration consistent with modern configurations.

Flat profile with 20 LPI grid

The flat profile promotes a direct and consistent grip. The 20 lines per inch (LPI) grid pattern improves grip without being overly aggressive.

Integrated Magwell

The integrated flare naturally guides the magazine during insertion. In practice, this facilitates smoother and more consistent reloading.

Compatibility and adjustment

Compatible with Kimber single-stack Custom and Pro revolvers, as well as Colt Government and Commander revolvers, this component may require precise adjustment. Installation by a qualified gunsmith is recommended.

FAQ
